The Daily Progress, Charlottesville, Va., David Maurer column: Where Eagles cared

Jan. 11--When the Albemarle County triplets joined the Cub Scouts in the first grade and proudly donned the blue and gold uniforms, it was simply a fun thing to do. Together the boys experienced the thrill and sense of accomplishment that came from learning how to do things, such as tie a bowline knot, start a fire with one match -- and, later, no match at all. During camping trips they learned about the beauty of a night sky and how to drive in tent pegs so even a fierce wind...

Ivy gets under Eagle Scout's skin

PORT ORANGE - Nick Sault learned a lot about ivy while completing his Eagle Scout project at Sugar Mill Gardens recently. "When I first started, I thought we'd just go to Wal-Mart to buy ivy and then plant them," said Nick, 17, an Atlantic High School senior who joined the Central Florida Council of the Boy Scouts of America in 1996. But it wasn't that simple. Ravaged by the winds of Hurricane Charley in 2004, the half-acre ivy garden...

WHEN RAY WELLEN shows grown-ups his wooden wall clock, they don't believe he made it with his own hands. "They ask me if I bought it somewhere," Ray says. "Then they almost always want to buy it from me." Ray politely tells adults his clock, handcrafted from scrap wood and stained the shade of rich coffee, is not for sale. After all, an 11-year-old couldn't possibly part with a project that helped him build another...
