Pediatrician Dr. Richard Marks dies

Friends and family came together April 12 at the Park Ridge Presbyterian Church to remember a Park Ridge legend, Richard Lewis Marks, M.D., 96. When he died April 1, he was about a month away from his 97th birthday. Dr. Marks was Park Ridge's first pediatrician, and stayed in practice for 51 years before retiring at age 80 in January 1991. He was born May 4, 1911 in New York, NY, growing up in Rochester, NY. As a Boy Scout he earned every merit badge available, and got a...

Scout Soars Far Beyond Eagle Chevy Chase Teen Earns Every Badge Possible, a Feat Deemed 'Extremely Rare'

It's not easy making Eagle, the highest honor in Boy Scouts. You need at least 21 merit badges, some required. Only 2 percent of Scouts get that far. A remarkable achievement. So what adjective should be used for James Calderwood, who has attained 121? Scout's honor. The Chevy Chase teen has every badge available, from American business to woodwork. He even has one they don't give out anymore, so make it 122. So many that he couldn't...

SCOUT OF MERIT LEAVES NO BADGES UNEARNED

Technically, Michael Ray Arsenault has 131 hobbies. He's made his own paper and bound his own book. He's studied beekeeping, rabbit-raising and veterinary medicine. He's even sewn his own shoes and repaired the broken toaster at home. But it was his real hobby that afforded all those accomplishments. Michael, a 17-year-old Boy Scout, has made a hobby of setting goals. "A lot of people think it's

AUTHOR KOHLER HAS REAL SENSE OF FUN

So how many mysteries would you have to read before you came to one about a hysterical circus ringmaster who hangs an elephant? And that's only a sub-plot? Or how about the Bigfoot-space alien connection? And do fugitive retired silent-movie stars talk in real life? Vince Kohler must be having fun. A reporter for the Portland Oregonian newspaper, when he shifts into his novel-writing mode he crafts a remarkably convoluted array of characters, settings and schticks that...

What Scouts did for Matt

Raleigh -- Matt Simmons is holed away upstairs in the 1970s time warp he calls his room, a strobe-lit sanctuary where he teaches himself to play Led Zeppelin songs on his electric guitar, where he studies harder than most kids to earn his A's. Earlier on the phone, his father, Steve Simmons, said, "Now ... Matt's a real character," a means of introduction any parent of a teenager might use, but his tone showed respect for the person his child is...

Youth soars by leading other Scouts

Youth soars by leading other Scouts By Erica Naone OF THE BEACON STAFF It's hard to imagine there's anything Larry Camarota can't do. The 15-year-old DeLand resident is a freshman in the Academy of Scientific Inquiry at Mainland High School, and has a grade-point average of 4.31 (a 4 is an "A"). He is active in church choir and community theater, is a certified lifeguard and plays the piano. These activities alone...
